

SPECIAL FILM EVENT AT THE PS/21 TENT

DANCE SHORTS

TUESDAY, JUNE 30 at 8:30 pm

Introduced by Norton Owen,
Director of Preservation for
Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival

Norton programs the PillowTalks series and serves as curator for the Pillow's exhibitions, in addition to directing the Jacob's Pillow Archives. He is the Chair of Dance Heritage Coalition, a contributing author to numerous publications, and a recipient of Dance/USA's Ernie Award for "unsung heroes who have led exemplary lives in dance."

Dances of the Ages (6 minutes, 1913) Ted Shawn conceived and directed this early silent film for the Edison Company, using trick photography to show miniature dancers.

Ballet Adagio (10 minutes, 1971) A classic film by avant-garde Canadian director Norman McLaren, with Pillow faculty member Anna-Marie Holmes and David Holmes.

A Very Dangerous Pastime (14 minutes, 2000) A humorous Canadian Dance Festival production that aims to reveal the "secret" of looking at contemporary dance.

Tap Heat (14 minutes, 2004) This award-winning film features dynamic tapper Jason Samuels Smith, appearing this Pillow season, along with veteran hooper Arthur Duncan.

Yes, She Said (7 minutes, 2002) Stockbridge-based choreographer Laurie McLeod directed this comic pas de deux, photographed underwater in a local swimming pool.

A Year With Take Dance (20 minutes) Abridged version of the recently-premiered full length film by Damian Eckstein, much of which was shot at the PS/21 Tent!
